Clean-Up Day Planned In 'Greenbelts'

Clean-up and pick-up day for the wooded areas bordering Mill Creek and Queen Anne Creek in the Middletown Township section of Levittown is set for tomorrow at 10 a.m.

About 500 volunteer workers are expected to turn out. They will inspect the creek valley areas, collecting and disposing of trash and clearing obstructions from the streams.

The volunteers are organized as the Committee for the Protection and Preservation of Greenbelts, under the chairmanship of Robert Carter, 121 Snowball Drive. Mr. Carter has invited all interested residents to submit ideas and plans for the long-range improvement of the greenbelts.

This clean-up campaign is the direct result of a recent meeting sponsored by the township planning board and the building firm of Levitt and Sons, Inc.

The purpose was to devise ways to protect the greenbelts. It was attended by school and township officials and about 15 Levittown community organizations.

At that time, the committee.

House Group Approves Postal Hike

First Class Mail Would Go To 4 Cents, Air Mail To 7 Cents

WASHINGTON UP—The House Post Office Committee today approved the administration's bill to raise the cost of mailing a first class letter from three to four cents and to hike other postal rates, effective July 1.

Air mail letters would be raised to seven cents, post cards to three cents.

All told, postage rates would be raised 462 million dollars for the year starting July 1.

The measure won approval by a "decisive majority" and with virtually no change, Chairman Tom Murray (D-Tenn.) announced.

The committee completed action on the bill today by voting four annual 15 per cent increases in postage rates for newspapers and magazines. These would bring in 33 million dollars annually by the time the last of the series of boosts is in effect.

The committee earlier had okayed the penny boost in the charge for mailing regular and air mail letters and post cards. These increases would produce $365,800,000 a year.

Ike To Plug Budget In Every Speech

WASHINGTON — UP — President Eisenhower today planned to continue his stepped up drive to carry his fight for his budget to the people.

An informed source said the Chief Executive plans to defend his budget in every speech he makes between now and the time Congress finishes work on the budget.

The President showed his determination to buck economy-minded congressmen when he said at his press conference yesterday that "as long as I am in a fight, I never rest."

He said he will "never stop" until he achieves what he and his

Fairless Warns On Complacency

NEW YORK (UP)—Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, warned today against "the bland assumption that our prosperity has found the secret of perpetual motion . . . and all the American people have to do is go along for the ride."

The former chairman of the U.S. Steel Corp. placed the burden of responsibility for the continued health of the economy squarely on the leadership of organized labor.

Cafeteria Service For Most Students

New Buildings To Create More Space Next Fall

Bristol Township elementary schools will be less crowded and most will have cafeteria service next fall, according to plans announced today by Dr. Guy F. Eberhart, regional superintendent.

At the same time Dr. Eberhart announced the area school assignments. These assignments show what elementary school children of various communities and neighborhoods will attend next fall.

Children from several areas will attend different schools than this year under the plans disclosed by Dr. Eberhart.

The expected opening of the new 23-room James Buchanan school and the addition to the Maple Shade school has made it possible to reduce the number of children in each school, free all-purpose rooms and cafeterias, which had served as classrooms, and to put fewer children in each class.

Dr. Eberhart said cafeterias and all-purpose rooms will be open in Thomas Jefferson, John Fitch, Community, Maple Shade, James Buchanan and the Lafayette Schools. In addition, the all-purpose room in the Ralph Waldo Emerson school will be open, but pupils will use the cafeteria in the Benjamin Franklin Junior High school, next door.

Food served in the Jefferson and Community buildings will be prepared in kitchens at other schools since these two schools don't have kitchen equipment.

The cafeteria at the George Clymer School is already in operation and will be continued.

Dr. Eberhart said an effort is being made to keep class enrollments between 30 and 35. He added that anticipated enrollment indicates an average class size of 32.

He said that all classrooms are up to standard and most of them are in buildings constructed since 1952. One exception to this is the Croydon primary school. But this,

Ellises Gain Point In Fight To Keep Hildy

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UP)—The state of Massachusetts conceded today at a dramatic inter-faith custody hearing that it cannot prove the Jewish foster parents of Hildy McCoy had not moved from the state long before they were indicted for kidnapping the child.

Hildy, born out of wedlock to a Roman Catholic mother, was the object of a heart-tugging drama before Florida Gov. Leroy Collins who took personal command of a battle by Massachusetts to have Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Ellis extradited to New England on kidnapping charges.

The child was happily engaged today in practicing for her role in her first grade graduation exercises in Miami Beach as the debate over her future broke out here.

Blake Thaxter Jr., an assistant district attorney of Dedham, Mass., admitted that there is no evidence to show the Ellis couple were in Massachusetts after June of 1955, which was more than a year before they were indicted for abducting Hildy.

But Thaxter said Massachusetts law can allow an indictment to cover any date within six years of September, 1956.

This point was one of the big issues in the Ellises' climactic legal battle to keep 6-year-old Hildy.

The hearing began shortly after 11 a.m. e.d.t. before Collins, a

Police Ask Juvenile Car Cases Go To JP

The Bucks County Police Chiefs Association will seek legislation to bring the fining of juveniles for motor vehicle violations within the realm of justices of the peace.

Meeting at the Plumsteadville Grange Hall, the sentiment of association members was that "if juveniles are old enough to drive cars, they are old enough to pay motor code fines."

Under present law, juveniles cannot be fined except in county juvenile court.

Vaccinations Resume Today At LB Hospital

1st, 2nd, 3rd Injections Given Children, Adults

What looks like three more busy days of Salk vaccinations began at Lower Bucks County Hospital at noon yesterday, with 2,835 persons inoculated against Polio before the doors closed at 8 p.m.

The first-day response was even greater than when the first three-day clinic opened last month, despite competing Salk clinics in the area.

First, second and third Salk shots are being given for $1 to children and adults up to and including 40 years old. The noon-to-8 p.m. hours continue today and tomorrow.

A hospital spokesman said many families reported to be vaccinated together, as they were last month. First, second and third shots were all popular. The greatest crowd appeared in the evening hours before closing.

This is the second of three series of clinics sponsored by the hospital medical staff, working with the Bucks County Health Department. At last month's clinic, 8,519 persons were vaccinated in three days, including some 2,200 the first day.

Volunteer Help

The staff doctors are volunteering their hours, two doctors at a time, to administer the Salk vaccine. Volunteering overtime hours to assist are nurses of the hospital staff and Health Department, with hospital employees. Women of the hospital auxiliary are constantly on duty to assist, in shifts of 12, and American Red Cross volunteers are also on hand.

Mrs. Ann Ettlinger, public health nurse of the Health Department, said the Salk shots were given to about 300 persons each hour until 6 p.m., when 1,000 vaccinations were given in the last two hours.

Forms Available

Directing the program are Dr. Daniel T. Erhard, president of the Bucks County Medical Society and Dr. John McGraw, president of the medical staff. Mrs. Jeanette Brisbane, social service director of the hospital, is coordinating the volunteers' efforts to keep the lines moving rapidly.

While application forms can be obtained at the hospital outpatient department, where the shots are given, the clinic sponsors urge the public to get them in advance. The forms are obtainable at the Bristol Borough police station, the Bucks County AFL-CIO Headquarters, the Salvation Army office in Bristol and at the Health Department office, 50 Quarry Road, Levittown.

A Wince, A Smile, Then A Lollipop

Kathleen Custer was one of the many hundred children and adults who received $1 Salk anti-polio vaccinations yesterday at Lower Bucks County Hospital. Mrs. Martin Kenneally, of Fairless Hills, a hospital volunteer, is shown daubing Kathleen's arm, to prepare for the Salk shot.

Mrs. Kenneally comforts five-year-old Kathleen as Dr. S. W. Eisenberg, of the hospital staff, applies the vaccination needle. Kathy winces in fright. Her father, Falls Township Police Sgt. Gilbert P. Custer is now looking on with interest.

The injection finished, Kathleen's expression has changed from fear to interest. She and her father both are active participants in the post-vaccination bandaging operation by Mrs. Rose Yarussi, hospital volunteer.

The vaccination ordeal's now all but forgotten and Kathleen receives a surprise reward, a lollipop, from Mrs. William Falk, hospital volunteer.

Good Evening!

Gloomy skies all over.

No wonder everybody's in a fighting mood.

Eisenhower ready to fight to keep his record peace-time budget from being trimmed by economy-minded Congressmen.

Governor Leader on a rampage against GOP legislative elements that trummed his extravagant fiscal estimate by $94,500,000.

Senator Morse gets himself into an unpretty one-sided brawl with the President whom he accuses of political immorality.

And even the Phillies in a fighting fettle as they drop that 13-inning toughtie to the Braves last night, 4-3.

Okay, we're not mad at anybody.

We've been having weather now for countless millions of years and we guess we've got to learn to live with it.

Anyhow, a week from today Decoration Day and the official opening of the vacation and relaxing season.

And two days later June with its brides and roses and a lovely month of deciding which are the prettier.

And after another of those gourmet's delights at Gene Nichol's house last night with Mrs. Gene again demonstrating an exquisite touch in matters of culinary artistry we'd have to be positively friendly with the world.

All right, free advice and as simple as this: Get along with everybody and you'll get along.

The husband is the head of the house, and the pedestrian has the right-of-way. Both are fairly safe as long as they don't try to exercise their right.

Hotel clerk: "Did you take a bath?"

Guest from the country outlands: "Heck no. Is one missing?"

If you drive, be careful.

Besides the buildings now under construction, Dr. Eberhart said, a 20-room elementary school building is planned for the Booz farm, on Green Lane near Mill Creek Road. Another junior high school is also planned. It will be built across the street from Delia's High School.

Construction on these two buildings is expected to begin this fall with completion set for next fall. Dr. Eberhart asked that anyone who is not sure which school their children will attend contact Miss Edna Pennypacker, at STillwell 8-3352.

House Gets Budget Bills

HARRISBURG — UP — The Republican General Fund appropriation bills were expected to reach the floor of the House today with a prediction by GOP leaders they will receive the support of their entire 126-man delegation.

GOP Whip Allen M. Gibson (Warren) said the Republican-controlled Appropriations Committee will approve the $1,418,244,000 budget proposal following a morning meeting. He said the measures are expected to clear the chamber next Tuesday and then go to the Senate, where final action could not be taken until about mid-June.

In the Senate, however, Democrats did not wait for the bills to appear before them to launch their attack against the budget cuts which would force Gov. George M. Leader's administration to reduce expenditures for the next two years by some $94,500,000.

Anthony Poplawski, a Pennel policeman, was voted into active membership.

Benny Hooper Takes First Steps Today

MANORVILLE, N.Y. — UP — Seven - year - old Benny Hooper takes his first steps today since tumbling into the bottom of a well shaft last Thursday.

Benny, who came through his 23½ hour ordeal with minor bruises and a pinched arm nerve, is expected to be released from the hospital tomorrow or Saturday.

Dr. Joseph Kroy, who has attended the boy since his rescue, said Benny does not "accurately remember" anything about his entrapment in the sandy well shaft.

"Amnesia has settled over his mind relative to the whole incident of falling into the well," Kris said. "As time goes by, he may seem to remember, but this will be mostly due to the fact that he will form mental images of what he reads and hears about what happened to him."

But, Kris said, "It will not be a true and independent recollection."

Benny said yesterday he was anxious to get home, to see his friends—and even to get back to school.

Score Sees Things 'Fine'

CLEVELAND, Ohio UP — A cheerful, ruddy-faced, but blinkered Herb Score told the world today that "everything will be fine."

Score talked for 20 minutes with nine newsmen in his first press conference since he was struck flush in the right eye, May 7, by a line drive off the bat of New York Gil McDougald.

"I doubt that I'll have any activity until two or three weeks after I'm released from the hospital," Score said.

His physicians indicated he would probably be released next week.

Score wore his own reading glasses, with the right lens blacked out except for a pin-hole aperture.

Dr. Charles I. Thomas told newsmen that Score had completed the first of a series of vision tests Wednesday afternoon, and the vision is "satisfactory."

"I could see improvement yesterday after they took those first tests," Score said. "I can see motion now, but details are hazy and cloudy. During the last three or four days, it's gotten much better—but it's better than seeing blackness, I'll tell you."

Sergeant Is Acquitted In Peeping Tom Killing

TAIPEI — UP — A U.S. military court-martial today acquitted M.Sgt. Robert G. Reynolds, 42, of the peeping Tom slaying of a Chinese Nationalist officer.

The decision, reached after one hour and 35 minutes of deliberation, was greeted by an enthusiastic outbreak of applause by Americans in the courtroom but appeared to have caused Chinese resentment.

Reynolds, of Colona, Md., shot and killed Liu Chi-Jan outside his home the night of March 20 after he found him peeking through a bathroom window at his wife, Clara, 36, as she dried herself after taking a shower.

Reynolds pleaded innocent to voluntary manslaughter charges and said he shot at Liu when he raced outdoors and Liu came at him with what he thought was a weapon.

Hard Hit Missouri Is Rammed For 3rd Straight Day

By UNITED PRESS

Tornado weather clung to the nation's midlands today after erupting in a new wave of damaging twisters across five states.

Tornadoes rammed hard hit Missouri for the third straight day last night and others skipped across Texas, Kansas, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

No deaths were reported in the onslaught, but several persons were injured and numerous homes damaged or destroyed.

The United Press counted at least 53 persons killed since Monday night when a giant tornado crushed through the suburbs of Kansas City. The victims, all but one from Missouri, included 33 in the Kansas City area, six in the devastated community of Fremont, four at Desloge and four elsewhere in the state. An Indianapolis, Inc., city employee was electrocuted while clearing away storm wreckage.

The tornado producing weather conditions, a combination of warm humid air flashing with a line of colder air, extended from eastern Texas to Michigan. Numerous severe thunderstorms were reported throughout the area.

A tornado near Waco, Tex., Wednesday night churned a path 500 feet wide and five miles long, injuring four persons and destroying seven homes. One of the injured was in serious condition.

President Eisenhower Wednesday declared parts of storm-battered Missouri, including the Kansas City region, major disaster areas and eligible for federal aid. Gov. James T. Blair Jr. of Missouri requested 25 million dollars from the government to help tornado victims.

DR. JAMES C. MAYES

Dr. James C. Mayes, 37, of 37 Gardenia Road, Levittown, a chiropodist, died suddenly at his home last night.

Mrs. Mayes called Dr. Samuel Haimowitz who pronounced Dr. Mayes dead. Dr. Haimowitz then called Coroner Thomas C. Lamb and Bristol Township police.

with Mr. Carter as chairman, was established.

Neighborhoods

The neighborhoods directly involved in the campaign are Juniper Hill, Lower Orchard, Upper Orchard, Cobalt Ridge, Quincy Hollow, Red Rose Gate, and Snowball Gate. These neighborhoods have been divided into sections and sub-committees are responsible for each section.

Levittown Times will publish the map tomorrow.

Among the organizations supporting the clean-up campaign are service clubs, PTA groups, women's clubs, the Garden Club, and Rod and Gun Club, the Middletown Township board of supervisors, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and Campfire Girls.

All interested citizens who would like to participate are welcome. Mr. Carter said. He urged them to wear old clothes and to be prepared for a day's hard work.

Vandalism

The action taken by residents and the formation of the committee is expected to put an end to most of the vandalism inflicted upon the greenbelts. A small minority of residents has caused considerable damage there, Mr. Carter said.

"If we don't take decisive action," he added, "the woodlands face destruction."

Senate Censure Move Unlikely For Morse

WASHINGTON—UP—A Senate censure move against Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) appeared unlikely today despite GOP anger over his attack on President Eisenhower.

Senate Republicans demanded that Morse publicly apologize for calling Eisenhower and Teamster boss Dave Beck "the same kind of immoralists" in a Detroit speech last Saturday.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.) told the Senate Wednesday that if Morse made the statement on the Senate floor he might have been "subject to censure." Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) called Morse's statement "shocking."

The Ellises' 6-year fight to keep Hildy hangs on a legal decision by Collins.

"This is it," said Ellis who arrived with his wife, Frances, about 10 minutes before the hearing started. "After it's all over it will be up to the governor—I hope he's with us."

Assistant Attorney General Reeves Bowen took over direction of the hearing after Collins explained to some 200 persons jammed into a small conference room that it is not normal procedure for a governor personally to preside at an extradition hearing.

Yardley Library To Add 300 Books

The Yardley Free Library will add about 300 books to its collection of about 6000 volumes as a result of the fund raising drive conducted recently.

Raymond Hampton, treasurer of the library board, said about $500 has been raised so far with more money expected.

"Some people have been slow in returning their contributions but we hope to hit our $700 goal before the drive is completed."

Contributions Welcomed

"Contributions are constantly coming in and are constantly welcomed regardless of the date of the drive," he said.

Marshall G. Hay, president of the library board, said it is his constant aim to increase the supply of books in the library.

"We are adding new books all the time and always bringing our library up to date with the latest in fiction, non-fiction and children's literature."

The library board maintains a committee to screen the latest releases and decide what books and magazines will be added to the library each month.

Mrs. D. N. Eames is chairman of the library's book committee. Other members of the committee include Mrs. T. S. Cadwallader, Mrs. Paul Elder and Mrs. Richard Washburn.

Welder's Torch Spark Causes Smoke Alarm

Sparks from a welder's torch ignited the outside of the water standpipe on North Delmar Ave. yesterday afternoon in Morrisville.

Lawrence Newell, superintendent of water works, said the damage was slight but the firemen were called as a precautionary measure.

Workmen are busy cutting about 70 feet from the 150 foot structure across the street from the water filtration plant.

Firemen from the Union and Capitol View Fire companies doused the blaze in the matter of minutes.

Manoah Reiter, superintendent of Morrisville schools, is on a teacher hunting spree throughout the state this week. He will visit Pennsylvania State University and other schools to screen prospective teachers.

Mr. Reiter has the power to make temporary appointments subject to formal approval of the board.

Dr. Theodore Hansen, new treasurer of the board, said present starting salary of teachers without experience is $3800. It was raised recently from $3600.

In other action, the board at its meeting Tuesday heard that the new elementary school in the Grandview section, to be opened in September for approximately 180 students, is moving along as scheduled.

Micklewright and Mountford, Morrisville architects, are constructing the new school in the western part of the borough.

William Roberts reported that a quantity of new textbooks has been ordered and will be delivered in time for the fall semester.

Two new officers were selected for the board.

Dr. Hansen was appointed treasurer, succeeding Harry Lee, Jr. Frank Miller was reappointed secretary for a four-year term. The treasurer's term is only one year.

Yardley Fire Company Drive Goes Over $11,000

With the fund-raising drive of the Yardley Fire Company about two-thirds completed, more than $11,000 has been collected or pledged.

The goal for the drive, which runs through to the end of the month, is $18,600, John Batt, treasurer announced.

"We are confident of hitting our goal and we also wish to remind all those who have pledged funds to send in their donations," he said.

The company has been carrying on a door-to-door canvas this month and will continue until the final day of May.

Main object of the drive is to pay $10,000 towards the price of a new fire truck purchased earlier this year.

The remainder of the money will go for maintenance and repair of the other fire company equipment.

Mr. Batt said the firemen will also participate in the Yardley

50 Enroll In Kindergarten

Fifty youngsters took the big first step on the road to organized learning this week when they registered for kindergarten in the Morrisville Schools.

Miss Mary Broome, elementary supervisor of Morrisville Schools said about 175 children can be accommodated in the borough's kindergarten program.

Next Registration
She said another registration session will be scheduled. School closes June 14, so registration will be announced before then, she said.

About 150 children participated in the borough's fourth year of kindergarten this year at the Manor Park, Capitol View, and Case Elementary Schools.

Grandview Elementary School, now under construction, will also be available for kindergarten students next term.

Children eligible to register for next term's kindergarten include those who will be five years of age before January 31, 1958.

Parents are asked to bring birth certificates and vaccination certificates to the registration.

Work To End On Standpipe

The 70 feet of water standpipe in Morrisville being taken down because of its poor condition will be completed this week, Walter Neumann, superintendent of public works, said today.

The remaining 80 feet will stand until the new standpipe is purchased and installed.

Due to the possibility of cracking and causing damage, the upper section of the standpipe has been removed to prevent any accident.

Mr. Neumann said there will be no difficulty in the borough water supply because of the cutting of the storage tank.

The chemical mixing chamber of the filtration plant itself is also being cleaned and that work is expected to be completed shortly.
